

My favorite part is getting them excited for their future and helping them navigate what seems to be the impossible.

I was working with my daughter on college applications and realized we were behind the ball. I now come in on Tuesdays and help kids through the process while I go through the process with my daughter at the same time. Knowledge should be shared.

A mentor asked me what I was interested in. I didn't know... we explored and it turned out to be physical therapy... they helped me job shadow and get an internship... Now I am going to college to study physical therapy.

If I had never showed up that day, I probably wouldn't be going to college.

ASPIRE Student

I have a student who has been nervous about being in the college setting. He comes from a tough family and I think he has lower self esteem. But he met with an ASPIRE mentor and he applied and got a scholarship.

I feel he stands taller. He feels worthy. He came in the other day and asked us if he could apply for more scholarships.
