Dear Lancer Students!

Thank you for another wonderful and productive school year. Thank you for all your hard work throughout the school year. I am so honored to be your principal; you make me proud to be the principal at RMS. I am grateful for your joy, astute insights and amazing talents. Dear Most Wonderful Reynolds Middle School Students and Staff!

I am honored to know you, serve you, and work with each of you every day. You are ALL phenomenal individuals and together we are a most vibrant and special community. This past year, we have all shared common challenges, experiences and successes through COVID and online school. Yet, in the big picture I believe we have all gained a great appreciation for life, family, friends, community, peers, coworkers, and health. As our school year winds down and we enter Summer, please find the rest, joy and rejuvenation you deserve. Let's enter Fall of next year with a renewed focus and drive to learn and grow like never before.

You may ask, "where am I growing towards?"

Answer: "You are growing towards you highest dreams and potential."

Mr. Coppedge

Hello Reynolds Lancers!

What a wild year it has been. I know this year has been challenging and I know that we are all ready for summer. I want to point out to our 8th graders in particular, that you have overcome many obstacles to get to this point in your education. This year held many challenges and you made it through those challenges. This is where your hard work pays off! All those Kahoots, Near Pod lessons, Schoology assignments, and projects that you participated in show your commitment to your education. You accomplished a lot this year and it shows.

Have a wonderful summer and a great new school year in fall. We appreciate you!

The Mask Study!

We can conclude that, yes if the mask is thick enough then the candle won't blow out or move. I chose the three mask I see are often worn when I go out in public. The neck gaiter was the least affective one therefore more exposed to the virus. You are actually better off wearing no mask than wearing one of these and here's why, scientists say the fleece fabric allows smaller droplets to get through that can travel farther and linger longer in the air. The blue mask didn't move the first or second time but it moved slightly the third time. As for the cloth mask didn't move at all even if I put it close to my mouth therefor the cloth mask is a safer alternative.

In this experiment I was testing out different masks to see which one was more effective, and overall I think all the ones that I tested are great. My independent variable was the mask material. The dependent variable was my breath passing through. The controlled variables were the candle and the distance the candle had from the mask. My claim was that if the mask material is thicker then it will prevent my breath from passing through. I tested out a fabric, cloth, and a disposable mask and none of them made the candle move in any of the trials except for the second trial of the disposable mask the candle moved a little. So therefore if the mask material is thicker then it will prevent my breath from passing through.

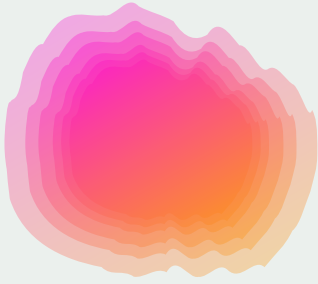

Based on the data we currently have, and what we are trying to test is if breath passes through the most is the nurse mask, so we should put it in 3rd place. The cotton mask made the flame move two times, so we should put it in 2nd place, then the third mask, nylon made the mask move zero times.

The data supports the claim. The evidence I shown where the lighter flame has moved zero times, shows that the Nylon mask is the best mask to use out of all of the three I own.

Yes the data supports the claim. The data supports the claim because the disposable mask did let out enough air to move the candle flame in the 3 trials. The other masks didn't let any air through at all. In conclusion, wear a mask. They work.

My data helps to prove my claim of "If the mask material is thicker, then the amount of breath passing through will be less." In my first test with the thinnest material 100% silk, my breath went out the majority of the time. In the second test, with the next thicker material of 100% cotton, it showed that the flame never went out, but did move the majority of the time. Now with the last test with the thickest mask, made of different materials, the results showed that the flame didn't move at all for all 3 trials. Based on the data I received from the tests, I can conclude that when the mask material was thicker, then less breath was able to get through the mask and blow out the candle. This leads me to believe that when you have better, thicker masks, your breath doesn't get through as much.

A Study on Plastics!

Plastic is harming the earth
I know
But it's extremely durable
So it never goes
I really wish
There was a way
That disposable plastic
Could instead stay
And BPA lost in the past
Not in our containers
Gone at last
Single use plastics
Must go
But some people
They just don't know
The amount of harm
These things have created
Are making the world more Deteriorated

By: Shaina R. Dawson

Plastic is everywhere
 death is caused by plastic
 but who knows the fraction or piece the of plastic that can kill
 Fish die every day
 came to realization
 that its just part of a day
 People throw trash around the earth
 didn't know that was a perk
 plastic is toxic to the ocean
 and the commotion has me saying
 plastic is deadly
 plastic is deadly
 plastic is deadly

this plastic poem called plastic hurts. The purpose of this poem is that the plastic is in the ocean and it hurt the ocean and animals. 100 million sea life animals die every year from plastic, a way we can change this is to throw it in the ocean but reduce the plastic production and maybe make it so plastic can not be purchased anymore.

.Jae

Plastic affects our everyday life in a great way. Lots of sea life suffers because of it, and a huge percent of the sea life die from eating all sorts of trash that humans leave behind. Due to this problem sea animals get sick and their population declines rapidly.

There's a lot of things that humans can do to prevent things like that from happening like using reusable things like metal water bottles, reusable bags, cups, plates, etc. Another thing people can do is use recycled things, and use things that are biodegradable. Another huge thing humans can do is buy things with less packaging.

Plastic is flowing in the ocean
 Slowing fishes down.
 Big piles of plastic are forming
 Plastic bottles are swarming.

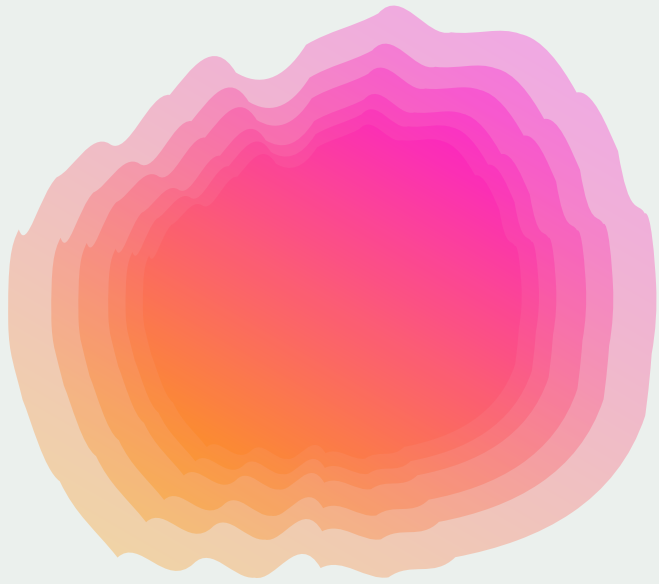

Toxins are thrown in the ocean.
 That the ocean life is eating.
 Plastic is ruining our oceans,
 And garbage is increasing.

Waste is on the beach,
 Trash is floating on the ocean.
 That all the birds eat.

Fish are eating trash,
 Turtles choke on plastic,
 We need to take care of the ocean.

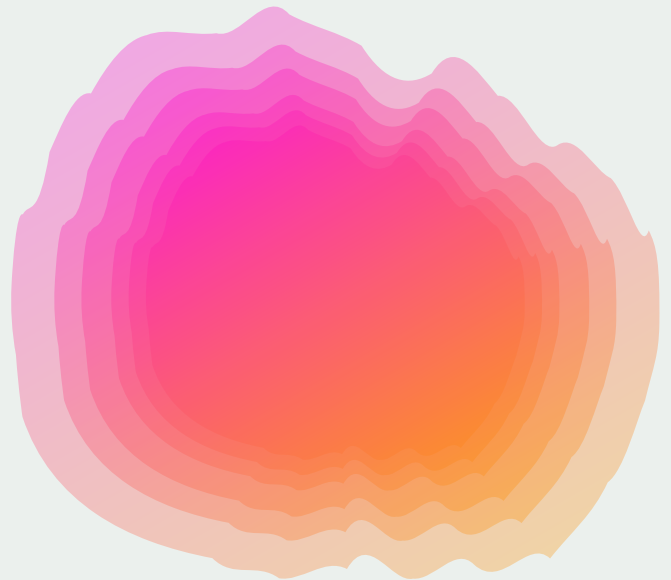

There's garbage on the kelp,
 The fishes need our help.
 Too keep the ocean clean
